

MAYB/ATX – “Slamma Jamma III”
April 12-13, 2008
Austin, Texas

Mid-America Youth Basketball returns to the greater Austin area and this event is going to be the best ever! The ATX Boys basketball club will be hosting the 3rd annual “ATX Slamma Jamma III.” This tournament will feature top level boys and girls teams from grades 4-12th from the central Texas area. Last year we saw teams visit us from out of state. Our tournaments always make and we expect even more teams to participate this year. Historically we’ve enjoyed between 50-100 teams competing in our events. The action will be fast, furious and most of all FUN!

Austin, TX...Live Musical Capital of the World

The greater Austin community offers a wide variety of recreation, shopping, entertainment, and cultural experiences. Austin is the home of the University of Texas main campus, which features state of the art recreational facilities and historical landmarks. Austin is also known for being the “Live Music Capital of the World”. The downtown area features numerous places to listen to country, rock, R&B, blues and jazz.

Along with the music, Austin also has a lot of great places to eat. You can choose from down-home BBQ, Mexican food and of course, some classic southwest cooking. To learn more about the city of Austin, visit www.austin360.com.

The competition at this event will be great, the event will be professionally run and the city is a great place.

You can't ask for anything more!

If your headed northbound it will be the exit past Hwy 71 and IH 35. From either direction you will head westbound on Oltorf (left if your northbound and right if your southbound) and the school sits right off the southbound side of the access road. There is a Tigger-Mart on one side of the street and a oil changing place with a Starbucks coffee shop right next to the school. The gym is in the back of the school and you need to take the driveway just past the Starbucks and Oil changing business.
